

Explanation note on the available media materials

Technical Sheet

DIFFUSION

English, French and Spanish

TV SPOT (45 seconds)

The Betacam cassette is ready to be broadcast. It can be given to the contacts you have with either private television companies or the national television.

The VHS cassette is for your use when negotiating with television directors or for eventual use for seminars, festivals and other information and communication activities.

RADIO SPOT (4 x 30 seconds)

The 4 spots on the cassettes are ready for diffusion. You have the possibility of personalizing these spots with the radio stations that you contact, for example:

- giving your address, telephone number, etc. to enable the audience to obtain more information on the IYCP and how to sign Manifesto 2000.
- giving details on the activities and events that your country is organizing around the International Year.

In each case you can use the same piece of music: Bach, Suite No.3 BWV 1068 (Aria) or replace it by some music more suited to your audience.

PUBLICITY PAGE FOR THE WRITTEN PRESS

The files in this kit allow you to negotiate advertising space in newspapers and magazines.

The version with the reply coupon was designed for the readers who do not have access to Internet. If they contact you for information on the International Year for a Culture of Peace and/or wish to sign Manifesto 2000, they may return the completed coupon to your address.

Attention: if you choose the version with the reply coupon do not forget to indicate your address, etc. so that the reader knows where to obtain further information about the International Year and where to send their signed Manifesto.

DIFFUSION

In any language other than, English, French or Spanish.

TV SPOT (45 seconds)

The international version is made up of images, music and the final screen image is a Logo in movement, "Peace is in our hands", with no text and the UNESCO and United Nations logos, and the internet address on a dark background.

To produce your own language version you must:

- 1) translate the enclosed texts
- 2) get 2 speakers (male and female) to read the texts
- 3) contact a television channel or an audio-visual production centre to redo the subtitles on each image and on the final sequence
- 4) record the voices
- 5) incorporate the music

The English version will guide you for the insertion of texts and voices

RADIO SPOT

The International Version includes sound-effects track and the music of each spot. To produce a version in another language you need to:

- 1) translate the enclosed texts
- 2) get 2 speakers (male and female) to read the texts
- 3) contact a radio station or studio to record the voice and mix the music. You can use the same piece of music: Bach, Suite No.3 BWV 1068 (Aria) or choose another piece of music suitable for your audience
- 4) you can "personalize" the second half of the spot by indicating your address so that your listeners know how to obtain more information on the IYCP and how to sign Manifesto 2000.

PUBLICITY PAGE FOR THE WRITTEN PRESS

In the kit you will find three versions of the page for the written press. To produce a different language version you need to:

- 1) translate the texts
- 2) provide the newspaper or magazine who have accepted to provide publicity space with the translated texts and the relevant diskette. Their technical services can replace the text part with the translated text.

If you decide to use the version with the reply coupon do not forget to add your address, etc. in the space provided.

We have received many requests for Portuguese and Arabic versions. Unfortunately, we are unable to provide them. If you are able to do this, please be kind enough to inform us so that we can help the other countries that are requesting this.
